

Dandy Don's teams with Harry's Berries for sublime strawberry ice cream

September 9, 9:55 AM • LA Food Examiner • Dee Long

 ShareThis

Many great foodservice offerings have been born of the right partnerships.

Harry's Berries Strawberry Ice Cream offered by Dandy Don's Homemade Ice Cream (www.dandydons.com) proves that point deliciously. San Fernando Valley-based Dandy Don's put their years of ice cream expertise to work using strawberries from Oxnard-based Harry's Berries to create something magical. Creamy, sweet-tart, satisfying and a lovely shade of berry pink.

Even though summer is coming to a close, you can still enjoy the best of summer strawberries by treating yourself to a scoop of Harry's Berries by Dandy Don's, available at selected restaurants including Fred 62 and The Farm Beverly Hills as well as such independent retailers as the Canyon Country Store on Laurel Canyon Blvd., San Carlo Deli in Chatsworth and Village Market in North Hollywood.

Until our next food find...may all your food finds be fabulous!